we promise that we did not let this issue happen again in the future.

--Root causes of the variation policy violation:

1. Our new employee is unclear about Amazon's policies and mistakenly created the variations.
2. The manager's check process lacks sufficient clarity, causing new employees to make mistakes that are not promptly discovered.

--The actions we have taken to resolve the policy violation:

1. our boss has asked our staff to review the ASIN Creation policy, variation relationship, condition guidelines, product detail pages rules by searching on the Seller Central Help. After the learning, we will hold an exam to test the learning outcomes, those who are not qualified have to learn again.

2. While editorial staffs creating a new variation,they should response it to our editorial manager.He should check the editing work and judge whether it meets the standard of the ASIN creation policy, after making sure there are no problems,then sign his name.

3. We have been organized the all of our staffs and selected three careful and experienced staffs to establish a review team.What they need to do is to inspect all the product detail pages including the title,bullet points,images,descriptions, before leaving their work.They should also check the template that our listing staff provided before uploading and make sure there is no mistakes existing on our template.The top priority is that they should check the variations we created are valid or not.

From now on,we will timely pay special attention to our performance health and make sure our listings are of a total compliance with your selling policies in the future.Product must be listed in a clear way corresponding with our material object and should assist our consumers in under standing the product in stead of causing difficulty.We will keep this lesson and experiences in our mind and strictly comply with Amazon' s rules.

Above is our plan of action,and thanks for reading! We have had a deep reflection, sincerely hope Amazon could remove the warning and allow us to continue to sell on Amazon.

Best regards,
