

We regret to have received a notification of infringement of a patent by us. For this, our company must sincerely apologize.

At this point, we must honestly admit our mistake and would like to explain it. Honestly, we have not been Amazon sellers for long and are still in the stage of learning Amazon's procedures and policies. More importantly, due to our limited level in uploading the product 你的 asin, we did not bother to look for information about the patent aspect, including the patent number, and we did not realize that the product with patent number 6181241 was at risk of infringement, and thus made an embarrassing mistake. In fact, our product is different from the patented product in both design and function, so please believe that we did not intend to infringe the patented IPR, but made this mistake unintentionally.

After we received the notification, we immediately checked our link and wanted to remove our ASIN, hoping to minimize the damage to them. And we found that 你的 asin had been promptly removed from Amazon. In addition, with the professional help of our IP firm, we thoroughly reviewed all the products we currently sell to make sure there were no other Amazon violations. (We would like to let you know that one of our solutions is to type out all titles and descriptions below this website to ensure that our products do not violate any other IP products. <https://register.dpma.de/DPMAregister/pat/basis>)

To be a qualified Amazon seller, we have analyzed this incident so that we can summarize some actions for our future operation. First, we will definitely improve the language level and IP infringement detection ability of all our members to avoid this situation. Second, we will set up regular training to help our employees better understand Amazon's rules and raise their awareness of compliance. Fourth, we will require that all ASINS be submitted to a team of IP consultants for final review before a product can be listed. Going forward, we will strictly enforce double-checking of product information.

We will definitely fight together with Amazon to protect intellectual property and reject any infringement. We can assure you that this will not happen in the future.

Patent Search Links: <https://www.registered-design.service.gov.uk/find/6181241>

Patent No.6181241

Patented imagesr:

 GOV.UK

Find a registered design
Feedback

Design number

6181241

Status

Registered

Registration date

14 December 2021

Renewal date

14 December 2026

Overview

Illustrations

Names and addresses

History

Application date
14 December 2021

Description
Skateboard Wall Mount

Classification

Class

08 - TOOLS AND HARDWARE

Sub class

08 - FASTENING, SUPPORTING OR MOUNTING DEVICES NOT INCLUDED IN OTHER CLASSES

你的产品图片：

